The Italian Job

Dear Ed,

Please find attached photographs of two Gyroplanes from the Magni stable, Pictured here at Glassonby airfield here in Cumbria recently whilst on a tour of Europe after leaving Sicily some days earlier, next stops planned been Strathaven and then on to Oban.

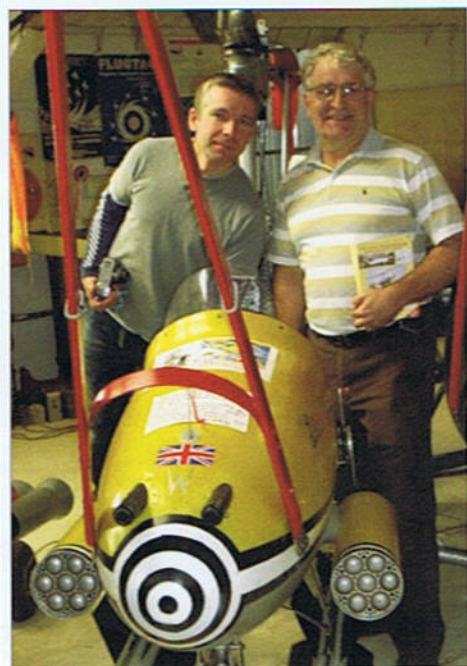

I saw them tracking south a couple of days later making good speed as well, no doubt to give Robin, the Glassonby airfield owner, some more Euro's for their landing fee's! Nice to see them.

Colin Hewer.

The Wickenby Wanderers visit to Reymerston Hall

On sat 12th of September, the Wickenby Wanderers Gyro Club were invited to join members of the RAFMFA on a visit to the home of Ken Wallis. The intention was to fly down and meet up at a private strip a few miles from East Dereham, then travel the rest of the way by road. However on arrival at the private strip we were told that our two autogyros had permission to fly in and land on Ken's own strip in his front garden – a dream come true!

Pussy Galore & Miss Money Penny admire Bond's weapon!

So myself and Alastair Lucking in G-RSMT and Dai Roberts and Mark Carter in G-CEXX took off again and were soon circling over the hallowed ground at Reymerston Hall. Dai approached first just clearing the wires at the edge of the field and touching down smoothly at the intersection. I gave the obstacles a bit more clearance and landed a way down the strip.

We then spent a fascinating couple of hours being shown around by the great man himself. This was the first time I had seen Ken's autogyros up close and I was amazed by the clever design and attention to detail. They really are built like Swiss watches! Ken has the energy and enthusiasm of a man half his age and it's easy to see why his endeavours in all aspects of his career have been so successful. The highlight of the day though was when Ken
